

Thanksgiving Special From Our Women's Clothing Store Starts Today

Face to Face With Thanksgiving and Christmas, Too
The spanking breeze of good old end of November is on.

The toodle, waddle and trot of summer is over. There is an air of getting over the ground and bowling along. People fit in and strut around with Thanksgiving wings and Christmas ideas in their heads.

It is jolly to be "goin' some" in the general canter of quickened life.

Hot weather is really a hobble, but these days do loosen one's heels.

During the toodle, waddle and trot we purchased a full cargo of merchandise, which is now on our shelves and tables.

Come when you will to this big, roomy, light store and take what you want and our thanks.

You are, and we are "face to face" with Thanksgiving and Christmas, too.

Three Days More to Buy Linens 20% Off

One good thing about this Thanksgiving sale is that it is big enough to be written of in definite terms.

Here in the White Goods store on the Main floor are 35 different varieties of Table Linen, and 50 styles of napkins, all reduced 20 per cent.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Oyster Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church at Stealey Heights will serve supper to the public at St. John's tabernacle Saturday evening beginning at 5 o'clock.

The supper is given at the appeal of the men of the congregation for an "oyster supper." Oysters, cooked in various ways and accompanied by home made relishes, more exquisite than the "fifty-seven varieties" will be served. And for those who like oysters a "long ways off" there will be something "just as good."

For Miss Holden.

Complimentary to her guest, Miss Freda Holden, of Clarksburg, Miss Clara Coffman entertained with an informal sewing party Thursday evening at her home in Parkersburg. The evening was spent most delightfully by the guests at the favored pastime and at the close a dainty repast was served.

Kappa Sigma 1st Plans Tour.

At the regular meeting of the Kappa Sigma Pi on Friday evening all arrangements were completed for the trip the boys expect to take during the next two months.

They plan to leave Clarksburg on Friday evening, November 26, and on that evening the basement of the First Baptist church will represent a Baltimore and Ohio restaurant where the boys representing business men will eat their lunch. In this same building will be found the depot and all that goes with it, even to the man who calls the trains, that all may be taken care of and the most inexperienced traveler will have no difficulty in getting the right train out.

The first stop will be Washington, D. C., where the boys will spend a little time with President Wilson and visit the many interesting places of this city. From Washington they go to Philadelphia, thence to Boston, reaching New York the second week in February.

Here Mrs. Daniel Shepherdson, who is now in Clarksburg attending the Laymen's Missionary convention, will join the party, conducting the boys and all friends who wish to join the party to travel through the Orient beginning with Tokio, Japan, making one stop at Hong Kong, China, Bombay, India, and Jerusalem, closing the tour at that point. Mrs. Shepherdson travels with a large oriental exhibit, and has been round the world as a teacher and student of customs, habits and conditions of the oriental people. She has been lecturing six years in this country. She presented her work known as the "Shepherdson Oriental Lecture Series" to the convention on Thursday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church, where a part of the exhibit is placed. Her lectures are all presented in the different costumes of the countries on which she lectures.

Those who compose the party leaving on next Friday evening are: Malden Stout, Alden Busby, Reginald Frasier, Randall Squires, James Morgan, Edward Lee, Cecil Lynch, Charles Gaylord, Paul Israel, Robert Boyles, James Stealey, Basil Arnett, Paul Craig, Turner Wallace, John Knox, Thurman Stout, Archie Hallsinger, Donald Switzer, Burt Morris, Harry Fretwell, Charles Lamping, Guy Huffman, William Arnett, Louis Sutton, Thomas Hill and Mrs. J. D. Hill.

To Serve Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church at Mt. Clare will serve the following at Cork's store room there Saturday evening:

Pickles Oysters Slaw
Joe Cream Cake Pies
Peaches, Pears and Cream
Coffee.

There will be music by the Mt. Clare band.

PERSONAL

F. A. Drake returned home Saturday morning after spending the week looking after business matters in the eastern part of the state.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Deep Yoke Back.

It has been repeated in these columns a number of times recently that the cape note is insistent and no less important is the note of the well-fitted shoulders, and to perform this feat the yoke will surely be employed, for how better could they be fitted than by this old-fashioned method. Yokes are seen on several of the latest importations and unless the American girl finds a way to overcome her athletic shoulders it will be curious to see how the sloping shouldered effect will be carried out. This versatile young woman is already pulling in her waist so it may be possible for her to find a way to give the sloping shoulders effect without any great harm to the aforementioned sturdy shoulders.

GIRL BORN.

Mr. Smith, the genial butcher at Brown's Market, wears a broad smile today. The stork left a ten pound baby girl at his home last night.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

In yesterday's Telegram it was reported that I was arrested on my way home from Marietta, with 120 pints of whiskey. Either the prohibition officer or some of the county officials, who gave the report to the Telegram reporter, wilfully and maliciously lied. The truth is, that I had 25 qts. and not one pint and had two cases of beer for my own personal use.
